The Book of
DANIEL

the reign of Jelah, Nebuchad-
on came to Jerusalem.
The king gave Jehoiakim king of Judah, with some of the house of God, which he had brought from Jerusalem, into the land of Shinar to be servants to the king.
Among them he brought Daniel, a young man
of the tribe of Judah.
The king commanded
him, and his companions, Belsaiach, Hananias,
and Mishael, that they should eat of the king's meat and drink of his wine.
But Daniel refused to
eat of the king's meat, nor with the wine he drank; therefore he requested of the chief of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.
9 Now God had revealed unto Daniel all these things. And he came into the favor and grace of the chief of the eunuchs.
10 And the chief of
the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I have feared
the lord thy God, since I heard that thou wast
a Hebrew: for thou art serving thy God, and drinking wine. I have said unto thee, for I am afraid of the lord
thy God, that thou
shouldest not eat of
his meat, nor drink of
his wine: but thou hast not kept his commandment, but hast eaten
of his meat, and drunk of his wine. Now I
thy God: therefore I have said unto thee, for I am afraid of the lord
his wine: but thou
hast not kept his commandment, but hast
eaten of his meat, and drunk of his wine.
